United States Air Force Academy

The Air Force Academy is among the most selective colleges in the United States. The campus of the Academy covers 18,000 acres on the east side of the Rampart Range of the Rocky Mountains, just north of Colorado Springs. Its altitude is normally given as 7,258 feet above sea-level, which is the elevation of the cadet area. The most controversial aspect of the Air Force Academy was its chapel. At one point, the designer was prepared to abandon the design of the chapel but the accordion-like structure is acknowledged as an iconic symbol of the academy campus. Mary Daley a graduate and former teacher of the Academy will be conducting the tour.
